

Additional items of concern that are not addressed in the proposed Wind Energy System Requirements for Hand County, SD

*There is no language detailing the requirements of the permittee to have liability insurance.

*There is no language that specifies how the ordinance would be enforced; or the process involved to effectively resolve any non-conformance or to deal with a complaint by the county.

*Furthermore, there is no requirement for the permittee to be bonded to insure that the county or it's residents are not negatively impacted financially by the permittee's non-conformance.

*Lastly, there is no language in the proposed ordinance that addresses the permittee's responsibility to insure that the project does not alter the historical water flow on the permitted sights.
